WORK & ACADEMIC EXPERIENCE

Asia Global Institute, The University of Hong Kong — Hong Kong, China
Research Assistant — May 2026 – July 2026

- Conducted data-driven research on US-China trade tensions and geoeconomics, analyzing trade flows in AI-related technologies, China's positioning within global supply chains, and shifts in upstream activities across the value chain in response to export controls and geopolitical pressures. Also examined the domestic economic and competitive pressures driving Chinese firms' international expansion and the role of Hong Kong in facilitating their entry into foreign markets
- Working with Dr. Brian Wong, I conducted literature review and engaged with researchers from different countries and fields on the BRICS+ alliance in preparation for a book on the subject

ARDIAN France — Paris, France
Private Equity Summer Analyst — May 2025 – July 2025

Directly assisted three Managing Directors launching a Nature-based Solutions (NBS) Fund within ARDIAN's Infrastructure Fund ($45 billions of Assets under Management)

- Analyzed the growing Voluntary Carbon Market (VCM): studied carbon credits registries, developments in countries' policies, and covered leading market players
- Implemented the Fund's model in project valuations (IRR, LPs requirements, equity injections) and monitored the macro environment of emerging markets hosting projects
- Prepared presentations and investment-specific pitches for on-site visits of potential LPs, including global Development Banks, French Insurance companies, etc.

McGill Department of Economics — Montreal, Canada
Research Assistant for Professor Youssouf Camara — May 2024 – September 2024

Collaborated with Dr. Camara on the extension of a paper for the World Bank that analyzed the digital payments and business resilience of French companies during the Covid pandemic

- Reviewed academic literature to identify gaps and research opportunities; applied the chosen regression analysis framework to explore new explanatory relationships and incorporated additional data
